

cogstone

20 YEARS OF
PRESERVING THE PAST

HERITAGE PROTECTION & EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Cogstone's Heritage Protection and Emergency Management (HPEM) team of Forensic Archaeologists and Criminal Investigators has over 100 years of experience in protecting cultural resources. We can assist in the detection, investigation and reporting of archaeological and paleontological violations.

OFFERING CUSTOMIZED CLASSES ON:

Archaeological & Paleontological Violation Investigation
Archaeological Damage Assessment Management*

*Meets USDA Forest Service Law Enforcement & Investigations ARPA training requirements

PROVIDING CONSULTING AND TRAINING ON CULTURAL AND PALEONTOLOGICAL RESOURCE PROTECTION:

- ✓ On-site investigation and damage assessment
- ✓ Archaeological Resources Protection Act based value cost and determination
- ✓ Paleontological Resources Preservation Act training and evaluation
- ✓ Damage assessment reporting
- ✓ Damage assessment services for both terrestrial and submerged resources
- ✓ Review and analyze investigative and damage assessments provided by other sources
- ✓ Full range of pre-trial and trial services, including grand jury and expert witness testimony for criminal and civil cases
- ✓ Training for federal, tribal, state, law enforcement officers and archaeologists, as well as prosecuting attorneys, agency managers and other staff members

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:

Brent G. Kober, MAS, RPA
Project Manager/Principal Investigator
hpem@cogstone.com

Martin E. McAllister, MA, RPA
Forensic Archaeologist
*Author of Technical Brief 20:
Archaeological Resource Damage
Assessment: Legal Basis and Method*

Cogstone Resource Management
cogstone.com
facebook.com/Cogstone

Branch Offices
Arizona — Tempe
California — Morro Bay, Orange, Riverside, Sacramento, San Diego

